

Safety and Security

The Marietta Riverfront Roar (MRR) Committee strives to deliver the most safe and secure event for the community by working throughout the year with all of the necessary public safety agencies on both sides of the Ohio River. Our Chair of Safety and Security, Howard Korn, who is the retired Director of Police Services at Marietta College, and his assistant, Dennis Thomas, continue a dialogue with the Coast Guard and the Marietta and Williamstown Police Departments, as well as the Wood County Sheriff, Ohio State Patrol, Washington County Sheriff, and Homeland Security. By having the Williamstown Volunteer Fire Department coordinate all water safety issues through the MRR Committee as well as through the Water Rescue of the APR Superleague, the weekend community event has been very safe and secure for the last eight years. This past year, as a result of the event's attaining world-class status, the MRR Committee employed Arch Angel Executive Services, Inc. from New Richmond, Ohio, who are affiliated with the Executive Protection Institute, a world-wide association of protection specialists who have covered such events as Mardi Gras, New York City Marathon, bowl games, and World Series of Baseball. All of this expertise has resulted in a professional, comfortable setting for participants, spectators, and visitors alike
